GERMAN ENVOYS REACH FOCH'S HEADQUARTERS KAISER'S ABDICATION BELIEVED NEAR AT HAND

FRENCH, BRITISH AND AMERICANS MAINTAIN TREMENDOUS PRESSURE WHICH IS BREAKING GERMAN ARMIES TO PIECES.

AMERICAN ARMIES HAVE ENTERED SEDAN

Yankee Successes Have Broken Last Anchor of Hun Forces in France and Belgium.

(By The War Editor of The Associated Press)

Germany's armistice delegates having entered the French lines under a white flag last night met Marshal Foch at 9:00 o'clock French time Friday morning. From him they will receive the armistice terms of the allies and the United States. The meeting occurred in a little village in the Department of the Aisne.

PRESSURE MAINTAINED

British, French and American troops maintain the pressure which has driven the enemy from many square miles of French territory in the past week. On the north the British are moving on Maubeuge and Mons and are less than three miles from Maubeuge.

While the Americans command the situation at Sedan, although they apparently do not hold the entire city, the French are pressing on toward Mezieres and have occupied Singly, less than 8 miles to the south.

Elsewhere on their front the French armies continue the rapid advance of the last three days. At no point are the French more than 20 miles from the Belgian frontier and at most places the distance over which they have to drive the invaders is much less.

NAVY HELD BY REVOLUTIONISTS

Virtually all the German navy is in the hands of the revolutionists who also are reported in power in Hamburg and most of the northwest of Germany adjacent to the North Sea. Revolutionists are reported in Bremen, Schwerin, Tilsit and Wilhelmshaven.

AMERICANS ENTER SEDAN

The historic city of Sedan which was entered first by contingents of the Rainbow and First Division after a thrilling dash forward against the savagely resisting Germans, is occupied in the western part by the Americans. In making this advance the advances wiped out a rather dangerous salient which had been formed between their positions and the French further west.

The capture of Sedan definitely closes the gap south of the Belgian border through which the Germans might attempt to withdraw their harried columns now in full retreat from the region between the Oise and Aisne rivers. It marks the culminating triumph of American arms in the fighting which has been going on with terrific violence since September 28.

The Germans realizing that the advance of the Americans on Sedan was fatal to their chances of making an orderly retreat eastward into German Lorraine, brought up fresh forces to hold cunningly constructed fortifications which were erected to bar the progress of General Pershing's men. Their efforts were unavailing. The First American army has taken a very vital role in the great offensive during the past 40 days.

DRY MAJORITY STILL GROWING

POOR EXPLANATION OF UNITED PRESS

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

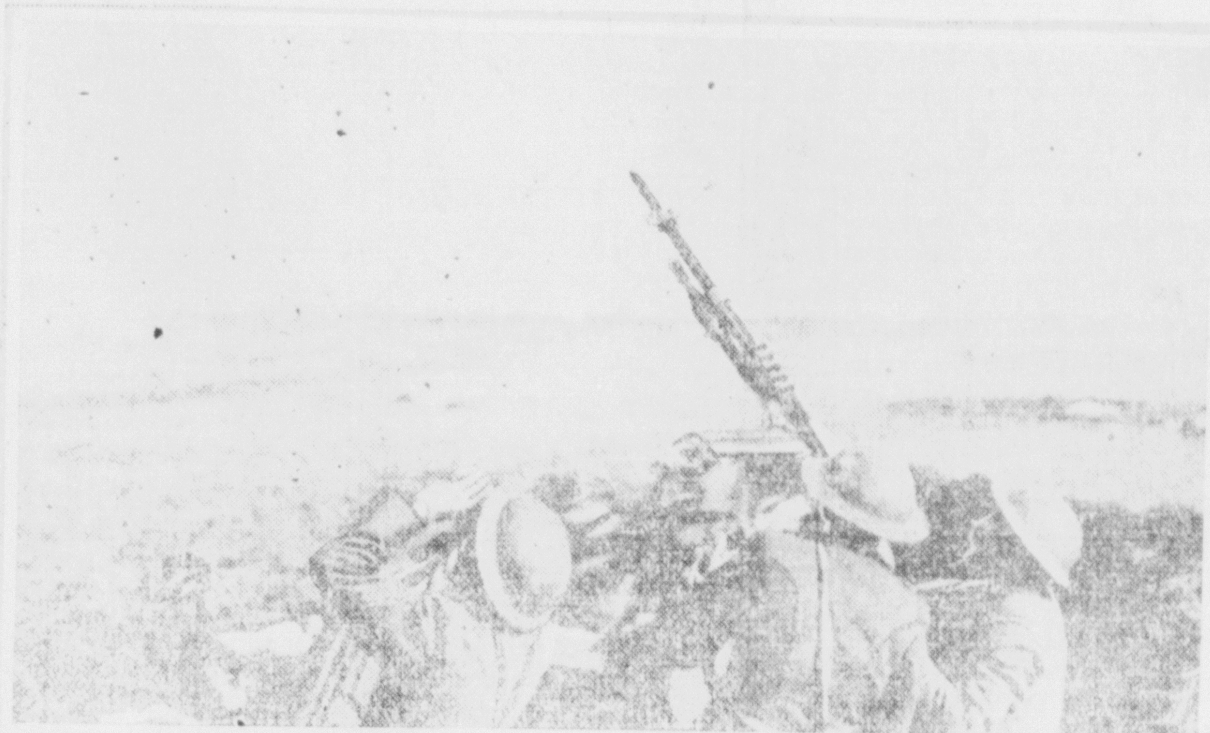

New York, November 8. — The United Press today published this explanation of how it came to circulate yesterday its report that the armistice had been signed and fighting had ended:

"New York, Nov. 8. — Yesterday's announcement of the signing of the armistice between Germany and the allies was made by Admiral Wilson at Brest and was filed to the United Press with the admiral's approval.

"This information was received by the United Press in a cablegram from Roy W. Howard shortly before noon today.

"Practically at the same time another message from Howard was delivered to the United Press stating that Admiral Wilson made the statement at Brest at four p. m., French time, but that later he was notified that it was not confirmable. This latter message filed by Howard did not show in the form in which it was delivered whether it was sent yesterday or how long it had been held up."

NEWS HOAX WAS CAUSE OF GENERAL OUTBURSTS

United Press Agency Responsible for Misleading American People by Circulation of False Reports.

Associated Press Stamped Reports as Unofficial, Unwarranted and False.

(By Associated Press Dispatch.)

New York, November 8. — Millions of Americans realized today that they had been hoaxed into celebration of the end of the war by publication of the United Press dispatches declaring an armistice was signed and fighting ended.

Twenty-four hours have passed since the country was thrown into a delirium by these reports which declared the armistice had been signed at eleven o'clock yesterday morning and that fighting had ceased at two o'clock yesterday afternoon.

Each hour brings official evidence that the reports were false and that the American people were fooled. Not only have official communications from France to the State Department at Washington denounced the report as untrue but the official statements of the French and British war offices show the fighting is still going on.

The Associated Press did not receive or distribute any of the dispatches which misled the American people into celebrating the greatest hoax of recent years. On the other hand by investigation through official channels the Associated Press was able to expose it.

New York, November 8. — Thousands of shipyard workers threw down their tools in Staten Island Yard today, crossed the harbor on ferry boats and began a march up Broadway, resuming their celebration of the false peace reports circulated yesterday. GREATEST HOAX IN YEARS SPRUNG BY UNITED PRESS

Nation Resents Canard Carried
by United Press Announcing End of War.

Premature Celebration Followed
by Bitter Disappointment When Truth is Learned.

The American public was made the victim of the greatest hoax perpetrated in recent years when the United Press organization issued the unqualified announcement that the allied armistice terms had been accepted by Germany and that hostilities had ceased at two o'clock
Thursday afternoon.

There was not a word of truth in the statement, as subsequent events have fully determined, and as a result the nation today is resenting the canard which plunged public into a premature celebration of the end of the war, resulting in the most bitter disappointment when the truth was learned that the United Press in an unwarranted attempt to secure a "beat" over the Associated Press by taking for granted something that had not occurred was responsible.

The United Press about noon on Thursday carried the unqualified statement that the war was at an end, declaring armistice terms had been signed and hostilities had ceased
at two o'clock. United Press papers throughout the country immediately carried the statement, with the result that a great many cities plunged into the greatest demonstration ever known, only to learn within a short time by Associated Press dispatches that the announcement of the United Press was with out foundation in fact, and the War and State Departments had announced that the German delegates would not reach the allied headquarters until at least five o'clock French time, or fully six hours after the signing of armistice terms was reported by the United Press.

When the public learned of the hoax, there was righteous indignation and bitter criticism of the United Press and former canards circulated by the organization were recalled and freely commented upon.

Rumors that armistice terms had been signed were carried by the Associated Press and only for what they were worth, with instructions to editors not to take them seriously as there was nothing definite upon which to base them. Within a short time the Associated Press carried official announcement that the armistice terms positively had not been signed, but in a great many instances the excited public did not heed these until the lengthening hours proved beyond all question that no armistice terms could have been signed.

In making the unqualified announcement that the armistice terms
had been signed, the United Press papers cited a bulletin purporting to be signed by Roy W. Howard, president of the United Press in general charge of the United Press in France and countersigned by William P.
Simms, chief of the United Press bureau in Paris.

Regarding the hoax a New York
dispatch says:

"The hoax recalled to the public mind others which had fooled the country if not the world. One was the alleged discovery of human being on the moon and the other was Dr. Cook's claim of discovery of the north pole.

"A news hoax, however, more closely paralleling today's was the one perpetrated to the death of Pope Plus X. It was announced by the United Press some hours before it occurred, but as the dispatch did not specify the hour and minute a great achievement in giving the news to the world was claimed.

"In the present instance, however,
there will be abundant official evidence to guide the public. The armistice being a historic document, will bear the hour and minute at which the signatures are set upon it, and the hour at which hostilities are to end likewise will be officially recorded and announced to the world."

HAVER FOR DRUGS

FUNERAL SERVICES LARGELY ATTENDED

A large number of relatives, friends and neighbors gathered with the family at the Washington cemetery Thursday afternoon, for the simple services which honored Mr. George Thompson preceding the burial.

Mr. Thompson was a man who will be greatly missed in the community and especially in his own neighborhood, and the assemblage was bowed down with the loss of one highly esteemed and greatly liked.

Rev. Rose, of Staunton, officiated and Hon. C. A. Reid read an appreciative memoir. Miss Daisy Cockerill sang sweetly "Abide with Me" and "We'll Never Say Good-bye in Heaven."

There were beautiful floral tributes in great number, including an immense blanket of roses, chrysanthemums and lilies from the family, and a wreath from the neighbors.

Mr. Thompson, realizing that his days were numbered had made all his own funeral arrangements and had also selected the pallbearers, warm personal friends. They were Hon. C. A. Reid, Messrs. Milton Elliot, John Tharp, Charles Owens, Joseph Andrews, William Eckle.

In Memory of

GEORGE W. THOMPSON

George W. Thompson was born May 4th 1852 and passed to the life beyond November 4th, 1918, at the age of 66 years and 6 months. He was a son of James and Julia Thompson who lived in the same community where the son spent his life in after years, and he was a member of a family of five children, two of whom, A. J. Thompson, of Washington C. H., Ohio, and James, who resides in Missouri, survive him.

April 27th 1879 he was married to Ella Harley, who with their three daughters, Mrs. Harry Taylor, Mrs. Frank Hutson, and Edna Thompson and three grand children, are left to carry the burden of this great sorrow that comes with the loss of a devoted husband and loving father. One daughter Elsie Thompson died in infancy.

In his young manhood he accepted the Christian faith as the true standard of life, and throughout the remainder of his years he was an earnest member of the Methodist Episcopal church, being a member of Otterbein Church for over thirty years. He was constant and unwavering in the observance of religious duties, and for about eleven years acted as superintendent of Sabbath School, and at different times held other positions of trust and responsibility in the religious organization of his choice.

The thing that brought into his life the greatest degree of peace and joy and happiness, were his affiliations with the two most important institutions known to civilization—the Church and the Home. He loved them both alike. He believed in the plain and simple modes of living. No gaudy show or glare of ostentation appealed to his standards of pleasure, or aims of life. While he was industrious and energetic in his matters of business and accomplished his work with a thoroughness that always assured him of success; and while he stood firm for every moral and educational influence that had an uplifting influence on his community, yet he never allowed any activity, however interesting or absorbing it might be, to draw the rivets of love and devotion that bound his heart and soul to church and home. His supreme delight was in ministering to the wants and pleasures of his loved ones. Mindful of their care and anxiety he braved the pangs of his last sickness with patience and uncomplaining endurance. It was the spirit of self-sacrificing devotion to their interests that enabled him to say to them as the end drew near—"I have tried to live for my family."

He loved nature, and saw new beauty in the transformation and development that came with each successive season. Flowers and children appealed to him alike. Both were his friends and he found joy in mingling with them. The unstained purity revealed in the glow of the blossoming flowers, was richly emulated, in the budding soul of innocent childhood. He found delight in sharing the joys and sorrows of children.

It is certain though that he would not wish us now to extol his virtues. He believed one's life should speak for itself. And his does speak to us today. In its quiet unobtrusive manner it made its impress as he wends his way from infancy to manhood, and through manhood into the deepening shadow; leaving behind in the hearts of those with whom he

CELEBRATION OF PEACE PREMATURE

Washington and adjoining towns like hundreds of towns and cities through out the United States, prematurely celebrated the signing of the armistice and cessation of hostilities, Thursday afternoon.

Long before the celebration started in this city Associated Press bulletins carrying official announcement that the armistice had not been signed, were posted by The Herald, but when a B & O. engine came dashing into town with whistle tied down and banner displayed, the high pitch of expectancy proved too much and whistles were sounded and bells rung for quite a while. This was about three o'clock. Crowds flocked to the streets and excitement prevailed generally. This gradually subsided, however, when those who had read the Associated Press bulletins assured others that the celebration was premature. For three hours prior to the demonstration, telephone and telegraph reports, which lost nothing in oft-repetition, had the citizens generally in a high pitch of expectancy.

Another thing that added to the general confusion, and subsequently was proven false, was an order purporting to be from Railroad Administrator W. G. McAdoo, which apparently was sent broadcast to railroad agents in this part of Ohio. The order read:

"Get up and salute the east. Respect to Generals Pershing and Foch, W. G. McAdoo."

The Herald asked the Columbus office of the Associated Press to query Washington as to why the announcement was made, and a short time later received the following response:

"McAdoo sent no such message."

Premature Demonstration

It is to be regretted that the pent-up delirium of joy and the long restrained acclaim of the coming of victory and peace should be loosed by a false rumor, but that was just what occurred on Thursday.

For days now the American people have felt confident that the acceptance of whatever armistice terms Marshal Foch would present to the Germans would be accepted.

The nation has been a vast magazine of nervous anxiety, restrained enthusiasm and tense restlessness awaiting the consummation of the acts which we have all felt was only a matter of time. It needed only the spark to set the whole explosion off and it came in the false rumor.

The Associated Press was careful in its first bulletins to designate the rumor as such and to warn the people that the message "picked up" was wholly unofficial. This was quickly followed by a statement from the capitals of the allied nations that no armistice had been signed.

But by asserting that groundless rumor was fact the "Scrap Iron League" news gathering agency took the edge off of our enthusiasm that has been accumulating for the coming of the great day.

Swinging Back Again

The most severe test to which a democratic form of government can be subjected is the conduct of war.

That fact, realized doubtless by the founders of our government, has been conclusively demonstrated; if any demonstration was needed, in the several wars in which the nation has, per force, become involved since its establishment, but never more conclusively than in the present struggle which has, necessarily, because of the tremendous magnitude, furnished the severest test of all.

That the people have risen superbly to the demands of the crisis is abundantly attested by the successes of the United States and France.

The superiority of a government by the people and of the people, over the autocratic form of government, is so manifestly pronounced that there is no longer any dispute about that fact, even in time of war.

Autocratic governments, in Germany, in Russia, in Bulgaria and in Turkey have cracked and broken down under the strain of war while the great free governments have met every demand gloriously, grown stronger under the strain placed upon them, moved along to triumphant and final victory.

Of necessity sweeping grants of authority have been made, by the people's representatives to the executive powers but executives and people realize that those grants are merely temporary; that there will be no abuse of unusual executive power and that, following the return to normal and the passing of the necessity, all such powers will return, automatically, to the people.

The President of the United States has been given unusual powers by the people—there has never been anything in American history, approaching the centralization of power which has been the big outstanding feature of the action of the people and one of the chief causes for the nation's success.

We are not inclined to accept seriously the fear that the action of the voters Tuesday in disregarding the appeal of President Wilson to return a partisan congress, will be construed abroad as a repudiation of the war policies of the chief executive, but if such a result does obtain in Germany the American people can't help it and they care but little. The American government and the American people are vastly more concerned about their own affairs than they are about Berlin's opinion.

With the approach of peace it is wise that a division of authority and responsibility for the conduct of the nation's affairs be decreed. It will result in lightening the weight which has heretofore been cast upon the executive alone. The people have decreed that the checks and balances of government are once more to become effective and that the need of a "rubber stamp" congress is passing as we enter upon an era which concerns our internal affairs.

That's the verdict of the supreme power—the people—and they are almost always right. There need be no anxiety about the support of all vigorous war policies by the congress which will convene next March and by that time, excluding the possibility of now foreseen occurrences we will be well along in the work of establishing peace and order.

The pendulum has swung far to the extreme during war time and no one should be surprised as it resumes the normal.

The result cannot properly be hailed as a partisan victory or a rebuke to the administration. It is rather the triumph of American principles and ideals and a tribute to the foresightedness of a people abundantly able to govern themselves under any and all conditions.

POEM FOR TODAY

THE REFUGEES

Slowly they come—these mutely sorrowing folk
These newly risen dead, these sad Remembers, Back to their fields—back to those places where
Of old the heartfires burned. Nothing is left Out of those days but tears—the "tears that live"
In mortal things" ashes and tears. For these—
These who have tasted Sorrow's deepest cup
And lived, they know not why, and died, they know
Not how—they lived again—what shall be done
For these, Grief's children, in the days to be?

Back from the tomb—slow Lazaruses—they come
With wounds so deep that even God has not Long while the power to ease them or to cure—Back into sudden sunshine! How shall those Remember to forget the days that were?
How lose the old deep horror of the ways?
How fly from madness of remembered days?

Lo, Life is still the answer—Life that comes,
Tenderly bearing gifts and clothed anew
With healing Freedom. Life will light again
Those darkened faces through World Brotherhood
And touch dry eyes to tears, mute lips to speech.
The dawn of great Tomorrow will give back
The upward looking and the light again.
And Love will lay her fingers on their hair
And touch their hearts to singing. Hope

Will walk all ways. But they who snatched the torch
And left these lampless in an utter night—
How shall they answer in that Later Day,
What shall they render in the Reckoning?

—Mary Siegrist.

HUNS MISUSE THE RED CROSS

(Associated Press Correspondence)
With the American Army in France, October 31.—Misuse of the Red Cross emblem by the German army is bringing bitter comment from American officers in position to know what is being done. A lieutenant in the medical corps and an infantry officer assert that "all the stories told about German army's devilish and inhuman tactics are true."

"Taught to respect the Red Cross flag, American troops were led into many an ambushade by Boche trickery in the display of this insignia. And what has incensed the Americans the most is the fact that the Germans refuse to recognize the Red Cross emblem at any time."

"Before going to the front I was inclined to doubt some of the stories being circulated about the Germans," said the medical officer, "but after one month in the front lines I can believe anything that is said against them. They are so guilty of inhuman and barbarous acts themselves that they refuse to respect the use of the Red Cross by the Allies. Their use of the Red Cross insignia is one of the biggest crimes they ought to be made to answer for after the war."

One of the tricks used by the Boche was to plant a Red Cross flag in the tower of a church of a village in the path of the advancing Americans. Respecting it, the infantry would not call for any concentration of artillery fire on these buildings.

The American troops upon taking one particular village advanced upon a church, from which was displayed a Red Cross flag, without suspecting any trick. When they were within short range, a murderous machine gun fire was poured into their ranks from the windows and towers of the church. When the Americans finally gained the interior, they found six machine guns, manned by a platoon of sturdy Boches—not a sign of any hospital or dressing station. Needless to say no prisoners were taken.

KITE BALLOONS ARE USED AGAINST SUBS

(Associated Press Correspondence)
On Board American Destroyer, American Port in France, November 1.—

FARM FOR SALE

150 acres 2½ miles of good market; two good houses, 1 modern; 2 good barns; double cribs; good fencing and ditching. Crops on farm will tell you what it is. Priced to sell. Can arrange terms.

EDWIN F. JONES

Kite balloons towed at sea by destroyers are one of the odd devices used to aid in the hunt for Hun submarines. A winch brings down the balloon to within twelve feet of the deck, so that the observer, throwing out a Jacob's ladder, descended for their usual meals at a change of watch. Within the wire cable leading to the gasbag is a telephone wire by which the observer keeps in communication with the deck.

The American naval aviators are doing splendid work in the balloons, and Ensign P. J. Barnes has established a new record for remaining in the air in a kite balloon.

WELL KNOWN FARMER SUGGUMBS TO SUDDEN ATTACK OF THE HEART

Shocking this community came the word shortly after noon Friday that Mr. Robert Patton, well known farmer of the Ghormley Station neighborhood, had dropped dead while seated at the dinner table.

Mr. Patton had been a sufferer from heart trouble for some time, death resulting from a sudden attack at the age of 67 years.

Everybody liked genial, big-hearted

"Bob" Patton and his death causes wide spread regret.

Mr. Patton was twice married, his first wife, Baretta Rogers, and his second wife, Mrs. Mary Rogers, who, with one son, Charles, and one daughter, Grace, now teaching in the Cincinnati schools, survive. The late Mrs. Clayton Lanum was a daughter by the first wife.

OLD BEN BROKE FAILS TO STRIKE

The mellow voice of "Old Ben" the faithful old courthouse clock, is silent. In fact his voice has been silent since the premature celebration of the reported peace, Thursday afternoon when the over-zealous celebrators snapped a rod connecting the striking hammer of the clock from the clock proper, so that while the clock has been running and keeping correct time, it has been unable to give forth any sound since it struck the hour of three o'clock Thursday afternoon.

"Doc" Ellis is administering treatment, and expects to have the big bell sounding with as little delay as possible.

The break was due to the celebrators using the clock hammer instead of the usual riot call hammer which is not connected with the clock proper.

SCHOOLS TO OPEN TEACHERS TO MEET

At a meeting of the Board of Health, Thursday night, it was announced that the influenza ban, which will be lifted beginning Saturday morning will permit the reopening of the city schools Monday morning after a vacation of six weeks due to influenza epidemic.

The Board of Health believes that further danger is at an end although parents are expected to exercise proper precaution should their children develop influenza at any time, and keep them close at home until they are fully recovered.

Teachers of the city schools will meet at the High School building at three o'clock Saturday afternoon, upon request of Supt. McClain.

IMPORTANT ROLE IS NOW FILLED

Mrs. George Bruce Franklin, Experienced Social Worker in the East and South, Appointed Probation Officer by Judge Allen.

The federal government has made the year of 1918 Children's year and has called upon all the states to Co-operate in the great work of looking after the moral and physical welfare of the children of the nation as a war measure.

The State of Ohio by passing the law G. C. 1662, has made it possible for every county to have a woman probation officer, whose duty it is to look after the moral welfare of the children as the public health nurse looks after their physical welfare and the county Commissioners have appropriated funds to start the work in Fayette County.

Since this work is being pushed all over the country it is difficult to secure trained workers and Judge Allen at the solicitation of the Woman's Committee, has appointed Mrs. George Bruce Franklin to take the work until such time as another worker can be secured.

Mrs. Franklin is peculiarly fitted for this work, having been actively engaged in social work for a number of years.

While a professor at O. W. U. she was made president of the Social Service Club of Delaware and went to Chicago to take a special course in the School of Civics and philanthropy under Miss Jane Addams and Dr. Graham Taylor. While in Chicago, she did field work and case work under Judge Tuttle, the real father of the Juvenile Court movement—for it was from Judge Tuttle that Judge Ben Lindsay gained his inspiration.

After her graduation, Mrs. Franklin came back to O. W. U. and took up her work there, extending her field work to Columbus.

After her marriage Mrs. Franklin moved to Atlanta where she became Conference Secretary of the Assocated Charities and Supervisor of the Friendly visitors and family workers.

After her removal to Boston, she kept up her work in the Associated Charities in addition to her local work, became corresponding secretary of the New England branch of the Child Welfare League.

While living in Waterville, Maine, she was a member of the Executive Board of the Associated Charities, an ardent worker for the play ground association, and after the federal government took over the work of Child Welfare, as a war measure, she was put on the Publicity Committee of the New England branch of the Children's Bureau.

The women of Fayette County feel that they are very fortunate in securing the services of as brilliant and capable a woman as Mrs. Franklin to start in work in this county and hope with the hearty co-operation of Judge Allen to make the work count for this community.

Methodist College at Rome, were designated to go overseas and supervise the European end of the work. A large part of the fund, it was announced, will be used in the establishment in Methodist colleges of scholarships for students who were called into the army and in aiding Methodist families whose bread-winners have been killed or wounded.
"The men who fought in this war," declared Bishop T. S. Henderson, outlining the plans for this work,
"will run the country for the next 25 years. Their needs and those of their families deserve a pre-eminent place
on our program."
Dr. Tippie, in discussing the plans for Europe, declared it will take $5, 000,000,000 and 100 years to restore France to pre-war conditions. He called on the church to establish orphanages, relief depots and model farms in the devastated areas.

America Has Right of Way.
"America has the right of way in France," he said. "They are looking to us for leadership in the period
after the war. Besides sending spiritual help, the Methodist Episcopal church hopes to send over hundreds of engineering and agricultural college graduates, who can help in the work of reconstruction."

The $5,000,000 appropriation, it was said, is part of the general centenary movement, whereby the Methodist Episcopal church expects to celebrate the hundredth year of its missionary activity next year by the expenditure of $50,000,000 on missions.

Plans for the centenary celebration, to be held at Columbus next June, are being discussed at the convention.

Dr. George M. Fowles, treasurer, reported today that the past year has been the best in the history of the mission board from a financial standpoint, total receipts being $2, 389,347. This is approximately $419, 000 more than was received last year, and it is the first time a year's receipts have reached the $2,000,000
mark. The combined contributions to Methodism for foreign mission work now total $3,748,606, he added.

THE PROHIBITION ISSUE IS SETTLED FOR ALL TIME NOW

Columbus, O., November 8.—James
A. White, manager of the Ohio Dry Association, expressed the opinion yesterday that the wets will never make an attempt to repeal the prohibition amendment adopted Tuesday, and that the wets will never use the wet referendum amendment, also adopted Tuesday, which makes legislative ratification of the federal dry amendment subject to a public referendum.

White said he is satisfied 40 or more states will ratify the federal amendment by next spring, eliminating the question everywhere as a state issue.
The number of states required to ratify before the federal amendment is effective is 36. If only this number of states ratify, White admitted Ohio wets may try to have the state vote wet again and also nullify legislative ratification.

Difficulty Over Funds

Even if the nation will not go dry and Ohio wets would want to resubmit the state question, it is clear they would have difficulty raising campaign funds, since there will be no breweries and saloons in operation here after May 27. It is unlikely that liquor interests outside Ohio would be willing to pitch in heavily with contributions to finance

a campaign in this state.

This would indicate that the adoption Tuesday of the ratification referendum amendment is a rather empty victory for the wets.

W. A. Greenlund manager of the campaign promoting interests of the classification of property amendment, said yesterday he believes the amendment was adopted. Returns from 50 counties, he said, gave the amendment a majority of 50,000.
Greenlund did not believe the remaining counties would cut the majority to less than 25,000. Franklin County voted against the amendment by more than 2000.

Chief interest among the candidates on the state ticket yesterday centered around the question whether H. C. Smith, Zanesville, Republican, who has a majority for secretary of state, will be able to qualify.

This law says "any judge" cannot run for any except judicial offices.
Smith did not resign the probate
judgeship of Muskingum County.

It is likely that either Secretary of State Fulton, Democrat, will refuse to issue a certificate of election to Smith, the latter then instituting mandamus proceedings, or that a Democrat will sue to enjoin Fulton
from issuing a certificate to Smith.

High Court Republican

If the case is heard before Jan. 1
it will be before a Democratic supreme court; if afterwards, before a Republican court.

The court will be republican Jan.
1, the first time since 1913. Among the present judges, Nichols, Donahue, Johnson and Newman are Democrats, and Matthias, Jones and Wanamaker Republicans. Defeat of Newman adds James E. Robinson, Marysville to the Republicans, giving them a majority of one.

The patronage of the court consists of employees in the offices of the clerk, reporter and law librarian and the bailiffs. The bulk of employees under the Democratic court
have been Republican. The clerk,
F. E. McLean, is a Democrat; reporter, E. O. Randall, Republican, and law librarian, Edward Antrim, Democrat. Randall has been reporter since 1895.

Best comparative figures on the state ticket yesterday were from 51 counties, including the populous ones
which give these majorities: Cox,
Democrat, 35,000; Bloom, Democrat,

PREYING UPON RELATIVES OF DEAD SOLDIERS

Kansas City Man Leads His Victims to Believe That From the Goodness of Heart He Will Paint, Without Charge, a Picture of Soldiers Killed in Action

One of the latest tricks of what is regarded as underhand business methods whereby the relatives of soldiers killed in action are made the victims of an unprincipled ruse by reason of a cleverly written letter which leads the victims to believe that they can obtain an enlarged picture of their "brave dead," has come to light with receipt of such a letter by a Fayette county woman whose son was recently killed in action.

In order that other relatives of soldiers killed in action may not be tricked into believing that they are to obtain a picture of their loved dead, without charge, the following letter from the Kansas City picture agent is carried in full.

"Kansas City, Missouri,
October 31st, 1918.

"Mother or Wife

of Priv. George W. Allen,
Washington C. H., Ohio.

"Dear Madam:

"I want to express my sincere sympathy to you in the great sorrow that has recently come into your heart and home thru the brave life that has been given so nobly and freely for our Country's sake.

"If I only had the ability and command of language to say the word that would soothe your broken heart, it would afford me much pleasure because I believe that even thou a stranger to you, our spirits are closely akin at such a time as this.

"I trust that you will not think me too personal if I ask you to send me a photo of your loved one from which I want to make you a large hand colored Japanese Painting. The photo, together with the painting, will be returned to you as quickly as it is possible for me to complete the painting—a few days only at the least.

"Send me any photograph you have handy either individual or group, postcard or stamp picture. If the photo shows him in civilian clothes, I will paint him in the uniform he wore in service, if you so desire.

"My one aim is to make the painting the one cherished keepsake of your loved one.

"Congratulating you upon giving so great a treasure for the cause so dear to all of us, and hoping that you may favor me with sending the photograph, I am,

Very sincerely your friend."

U. S. NAVAL BASE ON FRENCH COAST VERY BUSY PLACE

(Associated Press Correspondence)
American Naval Base, France.—(By Mail)—Here on this rugged Breton coast there is an American naval establishment which is a sort of composite of the busy activity of the Navy Department at Washington and of one of the big navy yards on the American seaboard.

Vice Admiral Wilson commanding the American naval forces in French waters has his headquarters here, with an executive staff quartered in one of the largest buildings of the city, fronting the Place President Wilson. American bluejackets are on guard at all the entrances, and steady files of American naval officers and sailors crowd the corridors on their various duties.

The streets are filled with American sailors on "liberty parties," often 5,000 and 6,000 in a single party. And on the water front there is the hustle and activity of a huge navy yard, with scores of American naval craft and transports lying in the harbor, and the shore alive with a vast naval installation.

Besides the rush of the port itself, this is the naval administration center for 300 miles of the French coast, divided into three districts, with a number of the chief ports into which the masses of American men and material are pouring.

Aside from the American transport fleet which comes and goes, there is a standing personnel of officers and men in these districts, with some 80 ship destroyers, repair ships, converted yachts, mine sweepers and naval tugs. The shore establishment is on the same extensive scale, with aerodromes for balloons and airplanes, great stacks of coal and mammoth tanks of fuel oil.

Naval headquarters is in constant wireless touch with the whole range of this naval activity, along the 300 miles of front and far out to sea where the convoys are steadily moving in and out. All the orders are issued here for this intricate movement, the meetings at sea at appointed places—and the zigzag routes which will cheat the hostile craft lying off the coast. From outside headquarters one sees the wireless antennae stretching off to a nearby church steeple, thus giving a great sweep of wire for gathering the sound waves. There is also direct telegraph and telephone, so that if need be conversations may go on between the naval chiefs and American officers at Paris or London.

It is a huge work this big establishment is carrying on. On the strictly naval side are the defensive and offensive operations—defense of American and other allied shipping in the vast movement of men and materials across the Atlantic, and offensive in the war of extermination being made against enemy submarines.

Outside of the naval operations, there is the steady march of a vast naval construction at all the ports along this 300 miles of sea front, repair plants, fuel stations, oil tanks, water works, and all the requirements of a great naval establishment which is constantly expanding.

"OUT OF DANGER"

Then to get back health and strength, is the next thing for Doctor and patient after gripe, influenza, or other wasting diseases.

A good tonic is needed and the Medical Profession is a unit in endorsing Iron, Nux Vomica, Gentian, Capsicum and Zinc Phosphide for this purpose. Many preparations containing Iron however, are very constipating but this is overcome in Dr. Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets by the addition of Aloin.

These Tablets contain all of the above important tonics in easily assimilative form and have no harmful or unpleasant after effects.

These tablets are safe, sure health builders and their use is strongly advised just at this time.

Weigh yourself before taking them and note how quickly they commence to do good.

Nearly every druggist sells Chase's Blood and Nerve Tablets at sixty cents a box. Special strength, ninety cents. Advt.

Ruddy Cheeks—Sparkling Eyes—Most Women Can Have

Says Dr. Edwards, a Well-Known Ohio Physician

Dr. F. M. Edwards for 17 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave to his patients a prescription made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. You will know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, yellow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women as well as men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—the successful substitute for calomel—now and then just to keep in the pink of condition, 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

U. S.-JAPAN TRADE GAINING RAPIDLY

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Tokio, (By Mail)—Japan's trade with the United States increased during the six months ended June 30. Exports to the United States gained $39,500,000, and imports $97,000,000.

The increase in exports was accounted for by the large shipments of raw silk, habutae and other staples, while the increase in imports is attributed to increased requirements of cotton, iron and machinery, as a result of the flourishing state of Japan's industries.

BLOND ESKIMOS ARE REALITY SAYS THIS EXPLORER

Man Who Has Visited Icy North Describes The Much Mooted Fair Haired Eskimos of the Unknown Arctic.

By Associated Press Dispatch.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 8.—"Sure they're 'blond Eskimos.'" They are aborigines living up in the white Arctic on Victoria Land in their primeval state absolutely untouched by the outside world's civilization. They are completely out of contact with everything and, consequently, have none of our improvements and also, none of our evils.

W. J. Bower, known along the Arctic coast as "Levi" Bower, one of the very few men who have gone from the outside into the far northern almost fabled land of the "blond Eskimos" thus described them when he was here recently.

"And I don't think it was Stefansson who first found them," Bower asserted. Vilhjalmur Stefansson, returned Canadian Arctic explorer, who has been credited with discovering the strange tribe, agrees with Bower that he did not find them first. He does, however, claim that he made the first study of the tribe and brought back to the outside world the first report of its existence.

According to Stefansson and Bower, a Captain Klinkenberg, master of the whaling schooner Olga in 1905 pushed northwest to Victoria Land where he found the blond tribe. On his return to the whaling base at Herschel Island, an Arctic Ocean point, he told of his findings. Stefansson then at Herschel, head Klinkenberg's story and immediately went to Victoria where he made a study of the natives.

Bower claimed the "blond Eskimos" are really blond. Stefansson does not go that far but says they have light gray almost blue eyes and a few have light hair and eyebrows. Bower pointed out that the "blond" natives have round full eyes while the other Eskimos of the far north have the slant eyes of Asiatics.

"It looks as if the 'blond Eskimos' come from early Greenlanders, or Scandinavian stock of some kind," Bower said. "I know they are not half white and half Eskimo because the half breed Eskimos have black eyes and black hair. These white ones have light eyes and light skin and hair. The old men of the tribe have the same white features as the young."

"Bows and arrows are used by them; they know nothing about tobacco and liquor, they make their fires with a sort of flint, they dress in skins, they spear their reindeer and club their fish, they won't eat outsider's food and they speak a language similar to that of the Eskimo."

"They are hospitable, friendly and square, too square, I think. If you give them anything they are not satisfied until they give you something in return. I gave one woman an empty baking powder tin and she immediately brought me a big skin."

HOW A SALESMAN SUFFERED

R. J. Porter, Sterling, Colo., writes: "I suffered with a painful, weak back. As traveling salesman I had to stoop frequently to pick up my grips, and the pain when I straightened up was awful. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Pills. Relief was immediate. Say, they are great." Prompt and tonic. Blackmer & Tanquary. Advt.
